Archie Cameron returned on Saturday from the Sturgeon river where he had been making temporary repairs to the bridge on the Landing trail. He states that the bridge was nearly overbalanced and that it was by the merest chance it had not overturned and been swept down the stream. The crib work and cords of the span are rotten and it will therefore be necessary, at an early date, to construct a new bridge. The amount of traffic crossing the river is very large, while some of the loads are exceedingly heavy and valuable, the present decayed structure, which has well served its time, must go and make way for one more suitable for present needs.

On Friday night the Oddfellows celebrated their eighty-third anniversary in America by a banquet at the Jasper House. The members marched in procession from Hounston's Hall, vice-chair. One of the old time speakers was put up and with songs and speeches a very happy and pleasant evening was spent.

EDMONTON BULLETIN APRIL 28th, 1902

TERRITORIAL SUBSIDY.

On the item in the estimates of the department of interior government of the Northwest Territories, Scott, liberal, West Assiniboia, criticized at length the fact that the vote showed no increase over that of last year. A general discussion followed in which Oliver, Alberta, spoke as follows:

Mr. Oliver: I wish to support what has been said by the hon. member for Western Assiniboia (Mr. Scott) with regard to this vote for local government in the Northwest Territories. It was with some considerable surprise that I saw in the estimates that the amount to be voted for this purpose for the coming year was no larger than the vote for the present year. I am at a loss to understand upon what basis of calculation this sum was arrived at. If it is necessary or desirable to meet the requirements of the public service in any part of the country, account must be taken of the increase of the population of these territories. Now the whole country is ringing with a knowledge of the increase of population and therefore increase of requirements in the Northwest, and that knowledge has produced no result in the way of meeting the requirements which thus arise. It may be said that the amount required for the purposes of the government of the Northwest Territories is an uncertain amount. So it is. With the increase of population, these requirements increase year by year. By reason of climatic conditions during the past two years these needs have been exaggerated. Heavy rains have been washed out by the drought, and a very large part of the revenues of the Territorial government which should have gone to extend the facilities of travel throughout new settlements in the country, has been used up in replacing the damage done by the floods in older settlements. It may not be altogether plain to members of the House why an increase of population means an increase of requirements. The reason is that the Territories have an immense area, compared to population.
They are not at all on the same footing as the province of Manitoba, where the population is contained in less than one-third of the total area of the province, and the total area of the Northwest is not over one-fourth of the area over which settlement is being made. An increase of settlement in the province of Manitoba means simply a thickening up of the population, whereas in the Northwest it means the opening of new roads or the establishment of new school districts, and does not increase materially the expenses of government; while an increase of population in the Northwest Territories means that people have spread out into new country, necessitating new roads and new schools and an increase in every way of expenses of government.
It is of course under our present condition a matter of arrangement or consideration of this parliament what shall be done from year to year to meet financial conditions. That is not the fault of the people or the government of the Northwest Territories. The government of the Northwest Territories has approached this government repeatedly during previous years, and most formally during the past year, asking for a definite financial arrangement based on the terms of confederation, as applied to the other provinces of the Dominion. They are not here from time to time clamoring for unknown and unheard of amounts. They are asking simply that the government or parliament take into consideration the requirements of the case, as they arise from time to time, or else put the Territories in the same financial position as the various provinces of the Dominion, so that they may enjoy as a right what they now must ask as a favor. I submit that the position is this: This parliament and government are required either to meet the conditions that exist by an adequate vote, or else to put the Territories in the position of the several provinces of the Dominion as regards financial arrangements. Either one thing or the other, and the responsibility is upon the House and the government in the matter.

As to the amount that is demanded and the comparisons that may be made with regard to that amount, the vote for carrying on the government of the Northwest Territories, which stands in the same position as a subsidy voted to one of the provinces—out of which provision must be made for the construction of public works of all classes throughout the Territories, chiefly roads and bridges, the requirements of education, and the administration of all the departments of government—amounts to only $357,000. That is the total amount provided for all the expenses of government of the Territories, which are in the existing circumstances, necessarily higher proportionately than in any other portion of the Dominion.
And it is to cost the country $445,000 in the coming year for the expenses to be incurred in endeavoring to bring people into the Northwest. I claim, Mr. Chairman, that these two expenditures are not proportionate. I claim that it is a reasonable expenditure to bring people into the country, $358,000 is not a reasonable sum with which to provide for all the needs of local government. I claim that for the people who are in the country now, and those who are to come in as the result of this expenditure on immigration work.

I need not add to what my hon. friend from West Assiniboia (Mr. Scott) has said with regard to the effect that an inadequate provision for the needs of education, the opening of roads and the general matters of local government must necessarily have on immigration into this country. The class of people who are coming there in largest numbers are those whose first demand is for the facilities of schools and markets. They are an enterprising and an energetic people who have built up the great country to the south of us, and who come over the land, weary of the vain effort to convert the world to Cobdenism, has reverted, not to protection, but to the idea of a revenue tariff with small duties on a large range of commodities. The natural sequence will be an attempt on the part of Mr. Chamberlain and the Canadian government to bring about a differentiation between the colonies and foreign countries. If this can be for the benefit of Canadian wheat, there will be a chance of repeating the experiment in favoring Australian wool by discriminating against Argentine wool. The budget has increased already the importance of the colonial conferences of the constitution period."

Coming from a man of Mr. Ford's standing these opinions are important. When he says that the "natural sequence" will be an attempt to bring about a preference for the colonies, he states what everyone knows will happen. Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be forced to ask for such a preference.
He cannot again go to England and advise the people there to stick to free trade. He must at last fall into line with the majority sentiment in this country.

Apple Growing in Manitoba.
The experiences of A. R. Stevenson, who settled in the Pembina Mountain in 1874, will be of great interest to the people of Alberta. Mr. Stevenson's hobby is apple growing. This industry is, however, conducted not as a fad but as a profitable enterprise.

A recent visitor to this farm, which is one of the practical demonstrations of the possibilities of this country, saw a tree, which was amongst others pointed out, the trunk of which was not over two inches in diameter, this was a crab and was planted twenty-two years ago. Two years ago it bore fifteen bushels of apples. A row of apple trees was noticed growing in very close proximity to some Scotch spruce which had been planted apparently for shelter and which overshadowed the slower growing apples. It was explained that the apple trees were of the standard variety, had been planted eleven years ago, and bore heavily last season. Mr. Stevenson stated that it took him ten years for them to come into bearing. These trees have prospered to such an extent to make it necessary to clear one of the rows. The apple trees and spruce should be planted in alternate rows, pretty close together, the coniferous and deciduous trees do not draw the same kind of nourishment from the soil, therefore, neither suffers from the presence of the other.

There is no doubt about the trees being able to withstand the winter. The rabbits and birds are the most dangerous enemy the apple grower has to contend with. The hilling of bur-lap around the trees will keep off the rabbits, while scarecrows will frighten away those birds likely to eat off the buds.

Of thirty different varieties of standard apples in the orchard, one hundred trees had reached the bearing stage.

Mr. Stevenson's success and experiences in "tree growing" has brought him into considerable prominence in the province, and he now holds the position of provincial inspector, under the Dominion Forestry department. His work is to encourage and assist the farmers in the growth of timber trees. Young trees and cuttings are grown at the Experimental Farm at Brandon, and supplied in sufficient quantities to those who apply for them by the first of May for delivery the following year. Only those however, who comply with the conditions laid down by the department can obtain a supply after they have applied for it. Mr. Stevenson visits those who desire to establish trees on their farms, and advises them where to plant, and the best method to be employed. Later he returns to see that the ground has been properly prepared, and when planting time comes consignments are shipped to those who are ready to take care of them.

Duty on Grain may Injure the West.

Montreal, April 15.—Mr. Alex. McFee, president of the Mount of Cashmere, speaking of the effect of the import duty on grain and flour, imposed by the British government, put the case concisely as follows: "The effect of the imposition of this duty by the British House of Commons will, in my opinion, be to place Canada at a disadvantage to the United States. The United States has its own home market for probably 90 per cent of its agricultural products, besides which she is admitted into the British market on equal terms with Canada and Germany upon much better terms. We, however, have to depend almost entirely upon the English market. If in the near future the production of wheat in Manitoba amounts to 100,000,000 bushels, a greater proportion of it will have to be exported, with the result that the British buyer will gain a great advantage through our increased supply and restricted market. It seems to me, therefore, that the producer, in this case at any rate, will have to pay most of the duty. We had an illustration of this in the crop which we are just now disposing of. Manitoba wheat has been selling considerably less than American wheat, owing to the fact that the latter had a very large home market, as well as the German market supply, and the Canadians had to export all their surplus crop to Great Britain at any figure they could get for it. If we had preference in Great Britain, we would not feel the blow so hard, but as it is it would seem that the act will have the tendency to check the settlement of the Northwest, as the farmer will likely be relatively in a worse position than the American farmer."

How to Raise Crops.

Clover seeds can be sown in all the eastern provinces of British Columbia to advantage with all cereal crops, without lessening the grain crop for the current year, for the winter grain cut the clover grows luxuriantly, acting as a catch crop during the latter part of the season.

Green clover turned under is especially valuable to the land, because while growing it absorbs large quantities of nitrogen from the air, and which is stored up in its roots. A heavy mat of growth is produced in the autumn, which, when ploughed under, adds considerably to the available nitrogen in the soil, and to the store of humus. The proportion of nitrogen thus added to the land is equal to that obtained from a dressing of ten tons of barn yard manure to the acre. Considerable supplies of potash, phosphoric acid, and lime are also taken up by the clover plant during its growth, a part of which is returned from depths in the soil not reached by some other farm crops. Tests year after year with wheat, oats, barley, and potatoes confirm the value of this method of adding to the fertility of the soil.

In preparing the land for crops, in the eastern provinces the advantages arising from fall ploughing have been proved. The exposure of the soil to the influence of frost, sunlight, and air is beneficial. Spring work is materially advanced, and crops can be got in earlier by this practice. Summer-fallowing a part of the land each year has been found of great advantage on the northwest plains. This conserves moisture, destroys weeds, and brings the farmer much larger crops. The yield of wheat on land that has been summer-fallowed will average fully one-third more than on land that has been prepared by only fall or spring ploughing.

The tests carried on at the Experimental Farm for ten years have fully demonstrated that increased crops result from early sowing. Sowing at the earliest possible time and then sowing a second series a week later, then four other lots at intervals of a further week each, has shown that the best crops have been had from the second sowing made just one week after it was possible to sow the seed. Beyond this, delay in sowing has resulted in loss which has been more serious as the delay has been greater. The average of the ten years' experience shows that with wheat a delay of one week beyond the period mentioned has entailed a loss of over 30 per cent, two weeks 40 per cent, three weeks nearly 50 per cent, and four weeks 56 per cent of the crop.

Rapid Growth of an Alberta Town.

Frank Sentinel, April 18.

H. L. Frank, the founder of the new town of that name, who is largely interested in the mining industries of British Montana, became convinced a few years ago that Southwestern Alberta contained coal bodies of a superior quality. The result being that 3,000 acres of coal lands were acquired and development entered upon. A year ago there was not a single house on the present town site; to-day there is a population of 300, nearly one hundred dwellings, fifteen business houses, two hotels, a church, a school attended by sixty children, while the Canadian-American Coal Co. has 100 miners digging coal and this number will probably be increased to 400 within three months.

The Canadian Pacific railway takes at present 500 tons a day, and Mr. Frank in a recent interview, eventually the daily shipments will be from 3000 to 4,000 tons daily, a market for which can be found in the Kootenay and Montana.

The Superiority of Canadian Flour.

Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, 11th 1902.

Makes the best loaf. Equals in England. Is not adulterated.

Canadian flour of the best sort contains by actual analysis about one-tenth more of albuminoids than the best quality of Hungarian flour; and the albuminoids or gluten being more tenacious yield a dough which rises better and holds its position in the baked loaf. Let the press proclaim this, and the news will be followed by a demand for Canadian flour in the old country, where people know a good thing when they see it and will have the best that can be procured.

For some years past Canadian flour has been steadily gaining ground in the European markets, and it is becoming better known as flour from which bakers can make not only the best quality of bread but the largest quantity per barrel. The English bakers make their sponge from seven or eight brands of flour, because this enables them to have a continuity of quality in the event of any single brand failing in the market. Three tests made by first class English bakers in London with Canadian flour gave the following results. Each 100 pounds of flour they obtained in the first instance 145 pounds of bread, 152 pounds of bread in the second, and 151 pounds of bread in the third case. Each test was made with Strong Canadian flour. It is not worthy that adulteration of Canadian flour by Indian corn flour, or other cheaper and inferior substances, is entirely unknown. For sweetness, whiteness and strength Canadian flour is unsurpassed.

To meet the increased demand in England for hard wheats to mix with the home grown and softer wheats, Mr. F. T. Shutt, M. A. of the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa, made a comparative examination between Canadian best patents and the best grades of Hungarian flours. The flour samples had been procured by the hon. the Minister of Agriculture. The results of these experiments proved the superiority of the Canadian flour for bread making purposes. The percentages of albuminoids or protein, the most important part from a nutritive standpoint, were, Canadian, best patents, 12.50 per cent; Hungarian, best grade, 11.27 per cent. The termination of gluten, both wet and dry, was, also, in favor of Canadian flour, namely, Canadian, best patents, wet gluten, 34.29, dry gluten, 12.39; Hungarian, best grade, wet gluten, 26.17, dry gluten, 9.79.

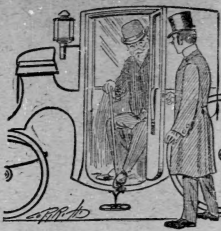

Famine in Chief Granary of Siberia.
St. Petersburg, April 18.—The reports received here from the famine stricken districts of Russia, more than justify the anticipation of acute suffering in those localities. Scarcity and poverty have been extending over the whole of the Altai region, formerly the chief granary of Siberia. The starving people there have consumed the last remnants of their seed grain and no spring crop has been sown. In some places the scarcity of food is so great that half the houses have been obliged to give up the lives of the cattle and horses. One hundred thousand pounds of food stuffs have recently been dispatched by the government to relieve Siberia, and the lieutenant general, in command of the district is endeavoring to locate the supplies and hurry them forward.

The czar contributed 200,000 roubles to the relief fund and has remitted the taxes of the sufferers. The gravity of the situation is evidenced by the latest disease statistics. At Menzinsk there have been upwards of 4000 cases of typhus-fever and scurvy; at Belbelisk 682 cases have been reported and at Akiminsk over 1900 cases have occurred. Similar reports come from Voronezh, Kasean and Saratoff. The Red Cross society is furnishing all the aid at its command in the way of free kitchens and medicines.

The War.

London, April 17.—In a despatch to the war office dated to-day at Pretoria, Lord Kitchener reported the capture of 130 Boers in the Klerksdorp district since April 11.

London, April 16.—There was a tremendous rush to subscribe to the new loan of £232,000,000 to-day. At the Bank of England it was estimated that this evening the loan had been taken up to the limit of £100,000,000.

ALBERTA OATS FOR THE WAR OFFICE.

The oat contract recently closed, between the Brackman-Kear Milling Company and the Imperial government, to be shipped to South Africa for the use of the army, is a most important transaction. The contract is for 4,000 tons, or about a quarter of a million bushels. The deal will be means of disposing of a portion at least, of the surplus crop of the district. It will prove that the natural outlet for the agricultural and farm products of Alberta, is by one of the Canadian ports on the Pacific. It will demonstrate the practicability of this particular route which is available, and last but not least it shows that we have merchants with sufficient enterprise and energy to compete for so large an order and the requisite responsibility to secure such a one from the war office.

RECRUITING FOR FOURTH CONTINGENT

On Friday an applicant, R. E. Turnbull, passed the examination for service in South Africa.

On Saturday, the only aspirants who successfully underwent the ordeal are A. R. Brown and J. W. Tipton.

Yesterday a telegram was received by Major Belcher to suspend operations until further instructions.

Thirteen men in all have been accepted here.

The recruits for South Africa parade to-night at 7 p. m. and will leave by train to-morrow morning.

Edmonton Right in It.

Winnipeg Morning Telegram: The progress of the C. N. R. through the Northwest Territories has given rise to a great deal of speculation. Some of the southern residents, on the Calgary and Edmonton line were of opinion that the point of intersection would be many miles to the south. The attention of Mr. D. B. Hanna was drawn to the subject, in a recent interview by a reporter. The general superintendent, replied quite confidently: "You may be sure Edmonton will not be missed."

Fashionable Municipal Ownership.

Morning Telegram, Rat F. stage, April 8.—This morning the contract was finally executed between the town and the Citizens' Electric Light Company, by which the plant and franchise of the latter is acquired by the town. The transfer takes place as soon as the terms of the contract can be carried out. The contract provides for the payment by the town to the company of twelve and a half per cent added to the expert valuation of the plant. The general terms of the contract are in accordance with the act passed at the recent session of the Ontario legislature.
